EVENTS

Geobel offers the kinds of objective and practical assistance that can benefit organizations involved in producing events, or developing and operating event venues. Because we are experienced in the management of both events and venues, we truly understand the expectations and needs of event planners, as well as the realities of designing, operating and maintaining facilities that service them and their guests.

KIOSK

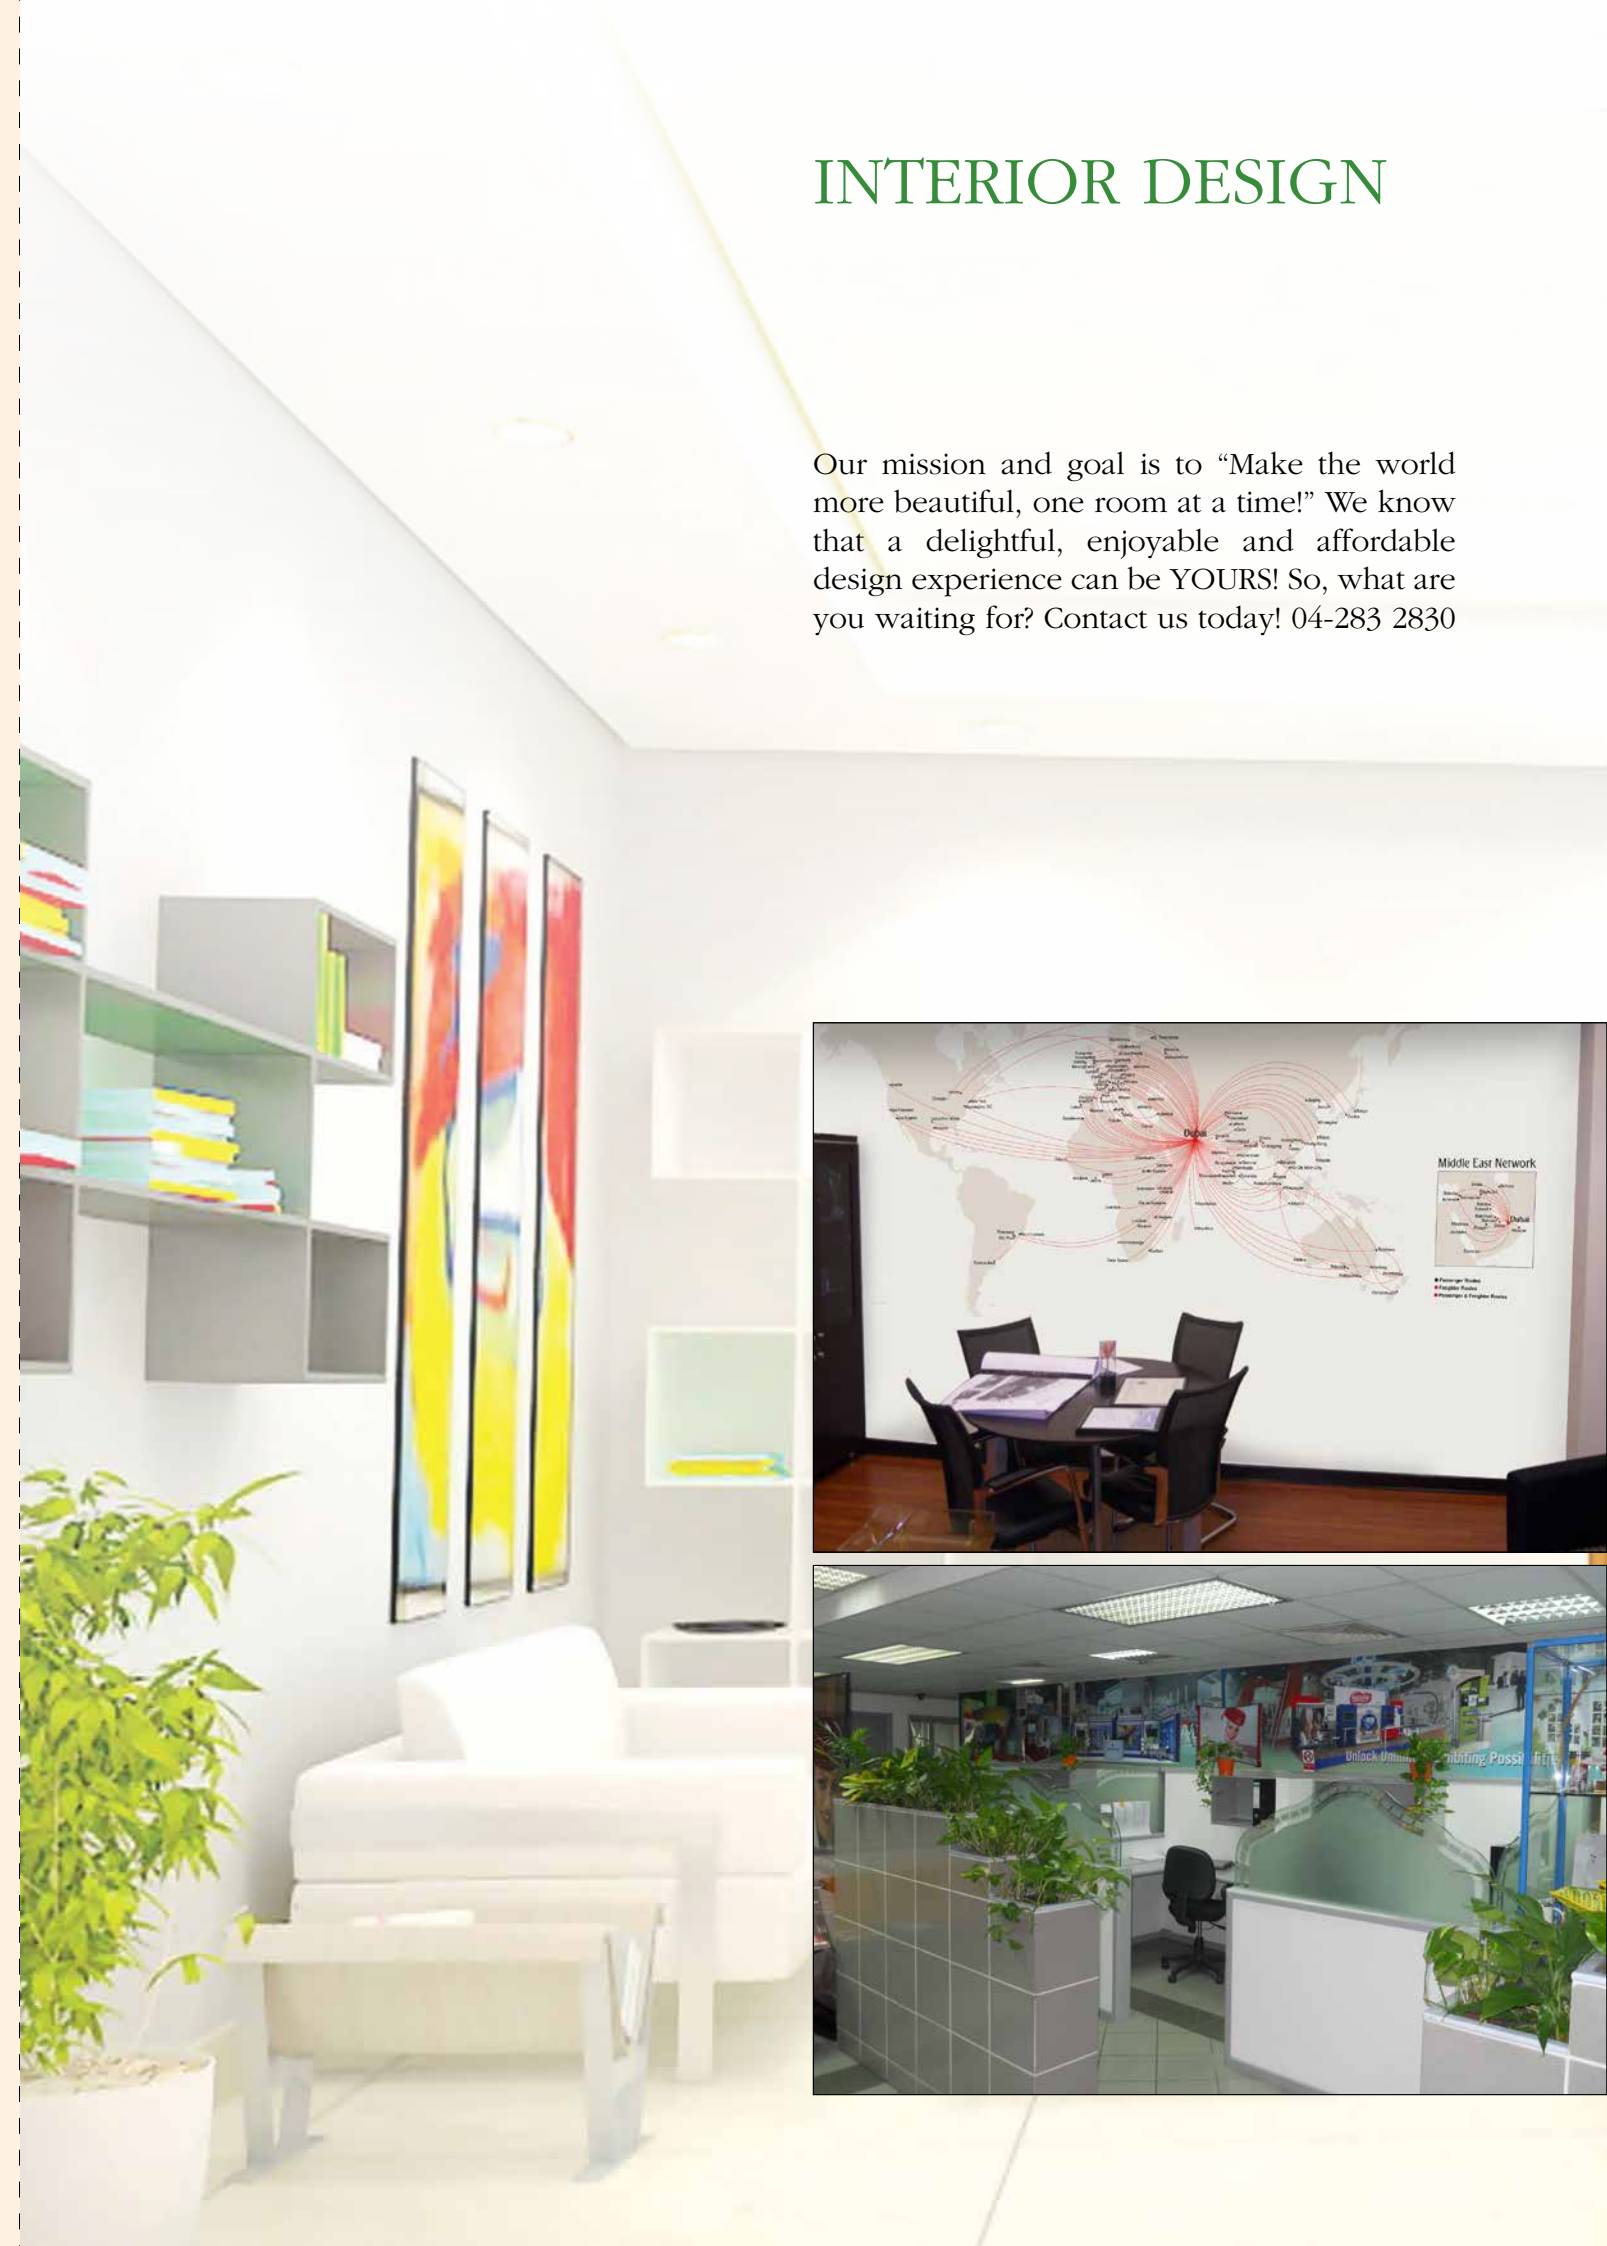

Having a kiosk in your marketing strategy is almost like adding another sales representative to your team. Interactive kiosks are excellent tools for promoting your product or service in retail environments, public spaces or on the exhibition floor. We offer several styles engineered to bring your sales message to life.

EasyStand®

No wonder this is a favourite display system: it's sturdy and compact, light to transport, quick to assemble and it packs a huge graphics punch. Infinitely flexible, its modular design allows you to combine as many panels as your imagination in a staggering array of shapes and sizes.

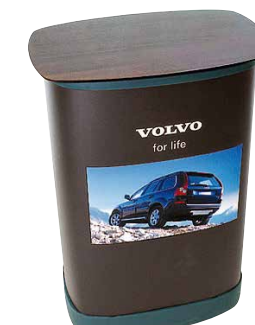

Eco-EasyPopUp® is engineered for longevity.

Setting up an Eco-EasyPopUp® display is child's play. Clip on magnetic bars which ensure total structural stability, then hang panels from hooks at the top of the frame and allow them to fall into place on the vertical magnetic bars, ensuring exact registration between panels. Because we use high-quality, multi-pole magnetic tape on both bars and panels, our customers suffer none of the problems of panel alignment dreaded by users of systems with steel bars.

Our panels stick, and stick in the right place!
